

Questions for Candidates Participating in the Ontario Municipal Elections (October 25, 2010)

Find out where your local candidates stand on their commitment to making walkable and bikeable communities a priority. Here are a few questions that you can ask.

- Why is it so important to make our communities more walkable and bikeable?
- If elected, how would you make our streets safer and more accessible to people of all ages to walk and bike?
- In your role as an elected official, how would you prioritize the creation of walkable and bikeable communities in planning and development?
- When was the last time you left your car at home and decided to use active transportation to get to your destination?

The iCANwalk website is full of information and resources to help you make your community more walkable. Visit www.icanwalk.ca today and take the Pledge to walk & bike more, and drive less!

Canada Walks brings together a diverse group of projects that focus on promoting walking and walkable communities. Canada Walks strives to be a centre for excellence for walking and walkability in Canada. Visit www.canadawalks.ca to learn more.